

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY, MS: SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY

The master's degree in Educational Psychology (School Psychology concentration) is designed as part of the Educational Specialist or Doctoral degree. Students in the EdS or PhD track earn a master's degree along the way to their final degree upon completion of the master's degree requirements. They must complete 30 graduate credits. Further, students in the EdS track must pass the master's exam, and students in the PhD track must complete a master's paper or thesis.

Admission Requirements

Application Deadlines

Application deadlines vary by program, please review the application deadline chart (<http://uwm.edu/graduateschool/program-deadlines>) for specific programs. Other important dates and deadlines can be found by using the One Stop calendars (<https://uwm.edu/onestop/dates-and-deadlines>).

Application

Before applying please see the Educational Psychology Website (<https://uwm.edu/education/academics/educational-psychology-department>) for department-specific application requirements.

Admission

An applicant must meet Graduate School requirements plus these departmental requirements to be considered for admission to the program

1. An undergraduate GPA of 3.00.
2. At least 18 undergraduate credits in education or related social sciences. Applicants may be admitted with specific program-defined course deficiencies provided that the deficiencies amount to no more than two courses. The student is expected to satisfy deficiency requirements within three enrolled semesters. No course credits earned in making up deficiencies may be counted as program credits required for the degree.
3. Initial advisor assignment will be made by the area chair of the concentration to which the applicant has applied.

Admission - School Psychology Concentration

The School Psychology concentration incorporates the scientist-practitioner model and provides a concrete link between theory, research, and practice. The program prepares students for employment in school and mental health settings. Students are prepared to provide psychological services to children, adolescents, and families; to conduct research; and to empirically evaluate the efficacy of their psychoeducational interventions and assessment procedures.

The following degree options are available: Master of Science Degree in Educational Psychology with a concentration in School Psychology; Education Specialist Degree in School Psychology; and, a PhD in Educational Psychology: Specialization in School Psychology. The PhD Program is accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA) and the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP).
